Simon Becomes Foreign Secretary of Britain MacDonald Makes Public His New Cabinet List

Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain Named Chancellor of Exchequer and Snowden Goes to House of Lords as Privy Seal; Eleven Conservatives in New Cabinet; Five Liberals and Four National Laborites

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 5.—Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald remains head of the British Government in the new cabinet, with Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin as Lord President of the Council and Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain as Chancellor of the Exchequer, succeeding Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden.

The cabinet list was announced at number 10 Downing Street this evening. Sir John Simon, one of the country's greatest lawyers and leader of one wing of the Liberal Party which broke away from Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George's leadership, is Foreign Secretary.

Mr. Snowden, who retired as Chancellor of the Exchequer largely because of his failing health, remains in the cabinet as Lord Privy Seal.

He succeeds Lord Sankey, who held that post in the emergency National Cabinet, and who becomes Lord Chancellor of Great Britain.

Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of another section of the Liberal Party, is Home Secretary.

THOMAS RETAINS POST
Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, National Laborite, remains as Secretary for Dominion Affairs.

Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Conservative, is Secretary for Colonies.

The new Secretary for Air is the Marquis of Londonderry, Conservative.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal, is Secretary for Scotland.

Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, was named President of the Board of Trade, an appointment which was regarded as Mr. MacDonald's attempt to balance the Conservative tariff pressure with a Liberal whose mind is open on that issue.

W. T. WILLIAMS DIES SUDDENLY

Well-known Business Man and Arion Club Member Victim of Heart Attack

William T. Williams, well-known old-time resident and business man of this city, passed away suddenly early this morning of a heart attack at the family residence, 1346 Harrison Street, aged sixty-four years. Mr. Williams was about as usual yesterday and his unexpected end came as a great shock to his relatives and friends.

Born in Leeds, England, a son of the late Benjamin and Elizabeth Williams, Mr. Williams had been a resident of this city for thirty-five years. For many years he was engaged in the clothing business, his establishment on Yates Street being one of the largest of its kind in the city at that time. Subsequently Mr. Williams was in the paint manufacturing business and more recently had been engaged in real estate.

Possessor of a fine bass voice, Mr. Williams for many years was a popular member of the Arion Club and took a prominent part in local musical affairs in his younger days. He was also a member of long standing in the Victoria Golf Club.

Mr. Williams is survived by his widow, two daughters, Doreen and Daphne, and one son, Jesse Campbell Williams; two sisters, the Misses M. and Alice Williams, all of Victoria, and two brothers, J. V. N. Williams of Honolulu, and Benjamin of Puna, Maui.

The remains are being held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, whence the funeral will be held to-morrow at 2 o'clock, proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where Dean Quinlan will conduct the services at 2.15 o'clock.

ALL CANADA IS ENJOYING UNUSUALLY MILD WEATHER

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 5.—Ripe strawberries, both wild and tame, and floral blooms of the hardier varieties have flourished here in defiance of early winter prospects. The fall weather has been exceptionally mild, though cold at night. Until a few days ago, numerous reports of unusually late growth had been received.

Fort William, Ont., Nov. 5.—An albino moose—aka albatross—with a clear white coat and pinkish eyes—has been seen in the vicinity of Orient Bay, according to a United States hunter who with five other tourists from the republic spent fourteen days hunting moose and deer at Orient Bay. The party returned here with five moose and two deer.

Many Papers Put Before Jury At Toronto Trial

Sergt. John Leopold of R.C.M.P. Gives More Evidence at Hearing of Nine Men on Communism Charges

By Jack Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Toronto, Nov. 5.—Concluding a day and half in the witness box, Sergt. John Leopold of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, finished his evidence in the trial of nine alleged Communist leaders here shortly before noon to-day.

Sergt. Leopold, as E. W. Esselwain, for seven years had acted as secretary of the Regina branch of the Communist Party of Canada, he testified yesterday. To-day he continued his remarkable story.

Much of this morning's testimony hinged around a letter written to "Comrade Esselwain" by Matthew Popovitch, one of the accused. This letter, the original of which had been destroyed, mentioned the establishment of a new Communist Party in Toronto.

"Comrade Esselwain recognized," the letter said, "the urgent need in Canada for a militant organization of workers to co-ordinate and carry to successful culmination the various struggles for the overthrow of the capitalist system and the establishment of a workers' republic." Such a party had already been established, it said.

"Esselwain" was further informed that Jack MacDonald, "one of the outstanding Labor leaders and speakers in eastern Canada," was coming west, and arranged for MacDonald to address the Regina organization on "the class struggle of to-day."

FEDERATION IS PLAN FOR INDIA

London, Nov. 5.—The British government intends to convert India into an All-India federation, with responsibility resting on the Indians themselves, supplemented by safeguards on national defence, finance and foreign affairs during the transitional period.

A high British official said this today in denying reports the government proposed only to give British India provincial autonomy, to be followed later by an extension of self-government.

Ontario centres, the village of Appin is producing raspberries in November. Mrs. Duncan A. Campbell, Efford Township resident, picked raspberries in the woods near her home yesterday.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Ripened by warmth and sunshine of mild November days raspberries are providing a second crop in many Ontario centres. To-day St. Thomas and Milton reported sufficient quantities of the fruit to provide meals.

BARRED FROM RULING ON FAR EASTERN DISPUTE

With the Japanese-Chinese situation in Manchuria daily growing more complicated it has been suggested that if the League of Nations Council fails to settle the dispute by direct action, certain involved questions be submitted to the World Court at The Hague. In that case Dr. Minobeichi Adachi, above, would temporarily stand aside. He is president of the court, but as a Japanese he would be barred from sharing in any proceedings before the tribunal, to which Japan was a party.

THOMAS IS TO VISIT CANADA FOR TRADE TALK

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 5.—The London Daily Mail to-day said Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominion Affairs in the new government, will go to Canada almost immediately and from there to Australia and New Zealand to prepare the ground for Empire trade agreements.

China Asks League To Intervene In Manchuria As Nonni Battle Spreads

Dr. Sze Calls on M. Briand as Council President to Take Action Following Japanese Army Attack on Chinese Troops at Nonni River Bridge

Canadian Press
Geneva, Nov. 5.—Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese member of the League of Nations' Council, called on Aristide Briand as president of the Council to-night to intervene in the Manchurian conflict.

He asked M. Briand demand that the Japanese Government "stop the incendiary activities of its troops, which threaten the gravest complications and for which Japan must bear sole responsibility."

Earlier in the day Dr. Sze had submitted a formal report to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary of the League, regarding the fighting along the Nonni River in Manchuria. He said Japanese troops had crossed the river and opened fire on Chinese troops under General Mah Chan-shan, killing a hundred Chinese soldiers. More than that, he said, Japanese bombing planes had killed twenty more.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Washington official circles to-day indicated instructions had been sent United States representatives in the Far East, because of the Japanese-Chinese clash at the Nonni River bridge in Manchuria, to renew pleas to Tokyo and Nanking not to aggravate the situation.

GRAIN COMING FOR VICTORIA

1,000,000 Bushels Expected at Elevator From Prairies Before End of Month

Grain Now Rolling to Pacific Coast; Vancouver Elevators Full

Because wheat is rolling westward in greater quantities than last year and Vancouver elevators are all full, the Victoria grain elevator at Ogden Point will commence to receive grain into its bins during the next ten days. It was announced this morning. Before the end of the month it is expected there will be 1,000,000 bushels, the elevator's capacity, stored away for shipment.

Last spring two ships took out the local elevator's capacity of grain to England. Approximately 1,000,000 bushels were stored in the elevator all last summer. The grain is now moving westward over Canadian National lines and will come here by way of Port Mann and Patricia Bay. It will be ferried across the gulf on the barge Canora, moved by rail from Patricia Bay to Point Ellice and then by barge through the inner harbor to Ogden Point. When once the deliveries start there will be large amounts arriving here every day until the elevator is full.

GRAIN CARS ROLLING

KING HAS TALK WITH GANDHI

India Leader Wears Only Loincloth During Visit in Palace in London

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 5.—Mahatma Gandhi appeared before King George V. Emperor of India, to-day, at Buckingham Palace, clad only in a loincloth.

Ascending the crimson carpeted staircase to the royal picture gallery, he bowed before King George and Queen Mary with his hands palm to palm, in the manner of a Hindu priest pronouncing a benediction. It was pronounced the most extraordinary scene ever witnessed within the palace walls.

While the King smiled benignly on his visitor, others surveyed him with critical and shaven head with bare legs.

The King exchanged greetings with other guests, numbering about 600 and including many robed maharajahs, and summoned the Mahatma for a private talk in the royal study.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—"The Canadian business structure has been strengthened during the last month," said the monthly commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce to-day.

"While production activity in several major industries declined, partly as a result of seasonal factors, this was overbalanced by gains in certain lines of business, and by upward price movements in some agricultural products, which more than offset losses in others. There is also to be taken into account the tonic effect on business generally that may be expected as a result of the recent election in Great Britain."

The letter continued: "Railway freight traffic improved in October over the preceding month, consequent on larger grain deliveries in the prairie provinces and the continuation of seasonal buying by the general public."

"The stability in Canadian exchange quotations in New York during recent weeks appears to be due not only to larger sales of Canadian goods in the United States, but also to the purchase of Canadian securities by large American concerns which have business connections in this country, and to an influx of American funds. The latter factors are suggestive of the faith of American people who have knowledge of Canada."

NEW GUARD IN SYDNEY MAY CAUSE CLASHES

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 5.—Hon. E. C. Theodore, federal treasurer, to-day issued a warning that the anti-communist "New Guard" movement, started for the purpose of combating seamen's strikes, was more likely to create disorder than to protect the citizens.

A seamen's strike, alleged to have been fostered by communist agitation, developed in Sydney a little more than a week ago, but was brought to at least a temporary close by action of the seamen themselves two days ago.

SILVER PRICE GAIN FOR DAY IS 1 1-2 CENTS

New York Traders Show Burst of Activity as Quotations Reach 32 3-4 Cents

Cautious Observers Say Upturn is Only in Sympathy With Commodity Prices

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 5.—Bar silver shot up 1 1/2 cents an ounce to-day to a new high for 1931 at 32 3/4 cents.

There was at the same time feverish speculation in silver futures on the National Metal Exchange here.

The surge carried the price across the high of the year reached last March, and to the best level since the final weeks of last year.

It was one of the largest advances in silver in a single day in recent years. But in the silver market have been encouraged by the sweeping gains in the wheat and advancing prices for commodities generally.

BASIC POSITION STUDIED
While some of the more optimistic brokers are predicting silver will go as high as 50 cents an ounce in the present movement, other Wall Street specialists declare there are no basic causes for such an appreciation in value and that the principal reason for the recent upturn is speculation in sympathy with general commodity advances.

Those who are putting their hopes in higher prices point out world production of silver for the first half of 1931 declined 21,873,000 ounces, or 20 per cent, compared with the output during the corresponding period of 1930. It is claimed no silver mine in the United States can show a profit on a price basis lower than 40 cents an ounce.

CANADA'S MOVE IN THE ST. LAWRENCE PACT NEGOTIATIONS

Washington, Nov. 5.—Negotiation of a treaty with Canada for a St. Lawrence River seaway was said to-day by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson to have been delayed through failure of the Canadian Minister thus far to present a programme setting forth his country's desires.

The Secretary said the negotiations had not been abandoned despite the delay.

The government was ready to go ahead with them at any time, Stimson added.

MANY WORKLESS BEING BOARDED

Government To-day Decides Whether Idle Men Guests Or Boarders

Over 250 idle workers are being boarded in Vancouver Island work camps by the provincial government. The men are unemployed pending the outcome of the government's negotiations with Ottawa for approval of $3,000,000 worth of work struck from the British Columbia scheme last week by the unemployment relief committee of the federal cabinet.

Cessation of work on all provincial government projects in hand on Vancouver Island affected about 350 men, but about 100 workers left the camps for their homes when the order was given to down tools.

PAYMENT OF BOARD
Hon. W. A. McKenzie, chairman of the relief committee of the provincial cabinet, this morning announced that his committee would this afternoon decide whether idle men remaining in the provincial camps would be regarded as the guests of the province or whether the cost of their maintenance during the period of idleness would be doctored from money already earned or to be earned if work is resumed.

SEAMAN DROWNED NEAR VICTORIA

Nineteen-year-old Norwegian Fell Overboard From Ms. John Bakke

Erik Lomeland, nineteen years of age, a member of the deck crew of the Norwegian motorship John Bakke, lost his life at sea yesterday evening in the Straits of Juan de Fuca, when approaching Race Rocks. It was reported when the ship reached the William Head quarantine station at 1 o'clock this morning on her way to Vancouver.

Capt. J. Fagerland of the John Bakke made a full report of the mishap when the ship reached Vancouver at 10 o'clock this morning. He said members of the crew were rigging the accommodation ladder in preparation for the arrival of the pilot when young Lomeland fell overboard into the sea. The water was not rough, but the unfortunate sailor was dressed in heavy sea boots and winter clothing. Lifelines were thrown over and within six minutes the captain had the ship turned about and two lifeboats were lowered. No sign of the sailor could be found, however, and after searching for nearly three hours the ship continued her voyage.

Capt. Fagerland thinks the seaman may have been injured by the thrashing propeller as the vessel was light and the blades were high.

Young Lomeland was from Sandnes, Norway.

LABOR COUNCIL ASSURES FIGHT ON CIVIC SEATS

Two Groups Consider Entry of Aldermanic Candidates in City

With plans definitely laid to have labor candidates contesting aldermanic seats, including a move to have Alderman R. A. C. Dewar reconsider his retirement, a warm civic election campaign was assured to-day.

Two labor groups are considering entry of candidates, but The Times was informed to-day that they would not oppose each other.

A meeting of the Independent Labor Party is scheduled for this evening to discuss the question, but following action of the Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening in calling a conference on the same matter it was thought improbable the I.L.P. would take any further action.

The labor council has called a mass meeting of all organized trades affiliated with it to nominate candidates next Monday night. As far as could be ascertained to-day the council plans to put up two men for aldermanic honors, with a possible third if Alderman Dewar consents to stand.

Alderman Dewar was elected, with Trades and Labor Council support, twelve years ago, and has served continuously since then. While the executive council of the organization will make a strong plea for him to run again, he has stated his decision in regard to retirement is final.

DREISER LEADS WRITERS ON COAL DISTRICT TOUR

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5.—A detachment of state troops today escorted Theodore Dreiser, novelist, while a committee of writers led by Dreiser, novelist, assembled at Pineville to organize before invading the coalfields to investigate what Mr. Dreiser calls a "reign of terror." Pineville is in Bell County, adjoining Harlan.

Governor Flem D. Sampson ordered out the National Guardsmen yesterday evening, saying he was doing so "in order that there may be no doubt as to the safety of these visitors."

Mr. Dreiser had telegraphed the Governor saying he would hold the chief executive responsible for any harm that might come to members of his committee.

CROWDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF LATE J.S.H. MATSON

St. John's Church Filled to Overflowing For Impressive Service Yesterday

Magnificent Flowers Among Touching Tributes to Late Newspaper Proprietor

The remains of John Samuel Henry Matson, late proprietor and publisher of The Daily Colonist, were laid to rest in Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. St. John's Church, where the simple but impressive services were held at 2.30 o'clock, proved inadequate to accommodate the hundreds of men and women desirous of paying their last respects, and scores stood outside the edifice throughout the service.

The cortege left the family residence, West Bay Esquimalt, at 2 o'clock, and proceeded to the church, a number of special cars being required for the conveyance of the hundreds of magnificent floral tributes received from all parts of the Dominion.

The honorary pallbearers were Premier S. F. Tolmie, Hon. R. H. Pooley, Mayor Herbert Anscomb, Judge F. S. Lampman, Sir Frank Barnard, F. B. Pemberton, A. T. Goward, John Hart, E. W. McMullen, J. W. Spencer, Major A. D. Macdonald and Col. Reginald Chaplin.

The active pallbearers were: J. L. Tait, W. B. Monteith, B. C. Nicholas, Charles Swaine, B. A. McKelvie and Harold Husband.

Uniformed nurses from Jubilee Hospital formed a guard of honor at the entrance to the church. The congregation included representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments, the judiciary, the City Council in a body, delegations from service clubs and public bodies, prominent business men, personal friends, and a large party of Indians from the Songhees Reserve, who came to bid farewell to one whom they regarded as a friend.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were simple posies from the Indians, touching evidence of their esteem.

F. W. JONES TO CONTEST GOLDEN

Former Victoria Man Will Carry Conservative Banner in By-election

Following receipt of news of a Conservative convention held at Golden, Premier Tolmie announced yesterday that F. W. Jones, formerly of Victoria and now of Canyon Creek ranch, near Golden, will be the Conservative nominee in the by-election next month for the seat rendered vacant by the death of John A. Buchanan.

The Liberal candidate is expected to be named at a convention next week. The names of several aspirants are under consideration and according to reports from Golden, a keen contest is anticipated.

The Conservative nominee is well known in Victoria. His name was before Conservative for the federal House nomination when D. B. Flunkett was named. Although up to that time he had not been an outstanding figure in the political field, he had been identified with the party for some time. He is chiefly known as a livestock breeder. His entries have carried prizes at Victoria and many other fairs in the province. During the war he took an active part in Red Cross organization in Victoria.

B.C. PLOUGHING MATCH IS WON BY AGASSIZ MAN

Chilliwack, B.C., Nov. 5.—It took a big Chilliwack plough the share of man from Aberdeen and a plough of Scottish steel to win first honors in the "high cut" class at this year's Provincial Ploughing Match at Chilliwack. The man was Jock Kellas of Agassiz, hero of many a ploughing match as a youth in Scotland and as a young man of British Columbia. The young Scot planned well ahead for the Chilliwack match, held yesterday afternoon. He sent to Aberdeen for an ancient plough he once used to turn the sods of his beloved homeland. The sturdy, well-balanced implement, classed as settlers' effects and enjoying reduced rates on ship and train, reached Agassiz a few weeks ago.

At the Dominion Experimental Farm at Agassiz Jock Kellas trained for the big Chilliwack plough. The share of the old country plough glistened in the sunlight yesterday as it was sped to victory.

Mr. Kellas won $15 cash and the applause of 500 spectators. Friends said that after paying all expenses on the plough and the out-of-pocket expenses of the day at Chilliwack, the man from Aberdeen from his several winnings yesterday would still be a few dollars to the good.

More than fifty ploughmen competed in the ten events of the day. They left some twenty acres of work so well done that judges had difficulty in many instances in selecting winners. Ploughmen were present from all points in the Fraser Valley and from points on Vancouver Island.

Ten New Fellowships For Canadian Scholars

CENTRAL BANK FOR THE EMPIRE IS ADVOCATED

British Committee Suggests Investigation of Possibilities of an Empire Currency

London, Nov. 5.—A joint committee appointed by the Federation of British Industries and the Empire Economic Union to examine the financial and currency policy of the empire to-day recommended that a central bank should be set up to act as a clearing house for all banks of the empire.

The report of the committee suggests the summoning of an empire currency conference which might be able to establish a "Pax Britannica" built up out of the present anarchy of the world's monetary affairs.

The committee also recommends Great Britain's return to the gold standard in 1925 and urges no steps be taken to return to an international monetary standard until it is determined that Great Britain and the empire will benefit thereby and that the rules of the monetary standard will be faithfully observed by other nations of the world.

SILVER CONFERENCE

The report favors the restoration of silver to a place in the world's monetary system and urges the government to summon or to attend an international silver conference which should be held immediately. It does not contemplate the restoration of silver as a standard of exchange, nor the establishment of a permanent system of bimetalism, but recommends that measures should be taken to increase the purchasing power of such consumers as India and China and the Far East generally by authorizing central banks to keep a proportion of their metallic reserve in silver.

On the question of fiscal policy the report says that while there is little prospect of any immediate far-reaching change in the French or United States fiscal policy, there is room for a very substantial reversal of the present gold drain through changes in the fiscal policy of Great Britain and the empire.

"Our free trade policy proved a misfortune for the world as a whole as well as for ourselves by handing over gold which we could not have obtained by consistent overseas investment, to others less capable of using it for world purposes," the committee asserts.

VIEWS NOT SHARED

The committee disagrees with several of the views expressed in the report of the Macmillan committee, which, it says, did not contain any reference to the existence of the British Empire and still less any consideration of whether more effective intra-empire co-operation in a money policy than existed at present had become necessary.

The report says that the principle of co-operation in effect in relations between Great Britain, the Dominions and India, the empire as a whole, is in a state of monetary chaos, it adds.

The committee concludes its report by saying a gold monetary sphere might well be the imperial sterling currency so adjusted as to maintain a reasonably stable price and stability for the British Commonwealth and powerful enough to govern, through the external trade of the commonwealth, both the value of the metallic medium of exchange and, indirectly, the value of currencies throughout the rest of the world.

Members of the committee included Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, former Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs; Sir Basil Blackett, a director of the Bank of England; Sir Robert Horne, Conservative member of Parliament for Hillhead, Glasgow, and Sir William Lark, industrialist and economist.

NEW TROOP MOVEMENTS IN SOUTH CHINA

Hongkong, Nov. 5.—Professing doubt over the prospects of internal peace in China, officials of the insurgent Canton government yesterday ordered troop movements in the direction of Chinese Nationalist territory.

Chan Chai-long, commander of the insurgent military forces at Canton, ordered troops into Kiangsi Province, which nominally is under the jurisdiction of the Nanking regime, and into eastern Kwangtung Province. The latter is supposed to be Cantonese territory, but was threatened by Nationalist forces before the recent lull in hostilities incidental to talk of political peace in China in the face of the controversy with Japan.

New York, Nov. 5.—Sears Taylor, thirty, assistant editor of Business Week, died here yesterday after a four days' illness of pneumonia.

Royal Society, Using Carnegie Corporation Fund, Will Send University Graduates Abroad to Do Research Work

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Through the generosity of the Carnegie Corporation in setting apart $75,000 for the purpose, the Royal Society of Canada has been enabled to create ten annual fellowships each of the value of $1,500 for a period of five years. The council of the society met this week in Ottawa under the chairmanship of Sir Robert Falconer, when a draft of the regulations for the fellowships was submitted and will be further considered.

These fellowships are designed to encourage among young Canadians of exceptional ability and promise original research toward the advancement of human knowledge. They will be open on equal terms to men and women, and will enable them to carry on special work in their particular fields at famous institutions in various parts of the world.

A candidate will be expected to have obtained the degree of master of arts or its equivalent, or preferably to have completed a year's work beyond that degree. The fellowships will be open to students in each of the natural sciences as well as in history, anthropology, political economy, sociology and allied subjects, in French as well as in English.

The awarding of fellowships will be in the hands of a board created by the Royal Society of Canada from among its members.

ARGENTINA SEES NEW PROSPERITY

Republic Feels Optimism Growing as Peso Rises in Value

Buenos Aires, Nov. 5.—Argentine people feel the country has just turned the corner on an era of new prosperity. The prospect of a stable, regularly chosen government after the elections on November 8, hopes for a good crop and for better prices, and a sharp upturn of the peso are looked on as giving promise of rapid emergence from the financial doldrums.

Government figures show large export of wheat, linseed, wool, hides and other staples against the lowest imports in years.

An outlook for an orderly election next Sunday was a major factor in the revival of optimism, at which time the de facto government, which has remained in power since the 1931 revolution, will be supplanted by a regularly elected constitutional regime.

Crop conditions are excellent, although the wheat acreage is 20 per cent less than in 1931.

Winnipeg Police Are Told Chinese Gunmen Imported

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Blaming imported gunmen and hatchet men for the wounding of Wong Sam, Chinese, Tuesday evening, Lee Att, president of the local branch of the Chinese Nationalist League, declares there will be no peace in Winnipeg's Chinese section until the police round up and get rid of the visiting gangsters.

"Wong Sam was shot because he was a member of the Nationalist League, which is endeavoring to have the gambling joints closed up," Att said. "Those who shot him were employed by the gambling ring. Members of that ring never work, but live in comfort from the gambling houses. They have declared warfare on us because we want the gambling stopped."

The imported thugs came from Vancouver and Nanaimo, the league official stated. They were men who went from city to city doing such jobs and had to leave a shooting or a beating in their wake to keep up their reputation of being "tough."

TAX COLLECTIONS INCREASE

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Tax collections this year to the end of October amounted to $10,669,517, a sum greater than the total revenue from this source for all of 1930. The gross levy this year is about $600,000 higher than that of last year.

Collections for the corresponding ten months of 1930 were $10,531,191, and for all last year $10,578,820.

NEW INCOME TAX PREDICTED IN ALBERTA

Liberal Leader Says Premier Brownlee Wants Legislative Session Before Christmas

Edmonton, Nov. 5.—Prediction of a special session of the Alberta Legislature before Christmas to enact legislation for a provincial income tax was made at a banquet here yesterday evening by W. R. Howson of Edmonton. The banquet was held in honor of Hon. Charles Stewart, Liberal member of the House of Commons for West Edmonton and former Minister of the Interior.

Mr. Howson, House leader of the Liberals in the Alberta Legislature, in an address predicted that before Christmas Premier J. E. Brownlee would "call a special session to enact legislation empowering the imposition of a provincial income tax to be made retroactive." Mr. Howson said the Premier was seeking legal advice to ascertain how much notice it was necessary to give before calling the House together.

NO HOLD-OUTS ON LOAN CONVERSION

Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's
Canberra, Australia, Nov. 5.—The compulsory conversion bill to compel dissenting holders of Australian government bonds to convert their holdings into new stock carrying lower interest was passed by the Senate by a vote of seventeen to nine yesterday.

The bill will take effect shortly. Conversion by dissenters will be compelled and will be made at the same terms as for voluntary converters. The amount held by the dissenters is more than $15,500,000, about 3 per cent of the internal debt of the country.

MOSCOW PAPER SCORES JAPAN'S ARMY MOVES

Pravda Says Manchurian Occupation Planned as First of Major Seizures

Moscow, Nov. 5.—A newspaper Pravda, resuming its attack on the Japanese policies in Manchuria, to-day published what it described as a secret declaration by Baron Tanaka when he was Premier of Japan in 1927 according to which Japan was a long-term plan to capture the United States to capture China.

That document, said The Pravda, bore out its charge that Japan's present action in Manchuria was a long-term plan to capture the United States to capture China.

"Japan's aggressive tendencies will not end with China," said the newspaper. "It has designs on the Philippines, the Malay Archipelago, Guam, Tahiti, Samoa and Australia."

Then the editorial quoted the alleged Tanaka statement which it said had been published in China. For its own protection, that document said, "Japan must remove its difficulties in eastern Asia by establishing a policy of blood and iron."

"If we intend to win control over China we must first crush the United States. To capture China we must also capture Manchuria and Mongolia."

The conflict in Manchuria, said The Pravda, might preface a fight for a new division of the world, for it was inseparably linked with conflict among imperialist nations for control of the Pacific. The Japanese occupation was described as the worst kind of aggression, typical of imperialistic policy and an interlude for a new imperialistic war.

The only reason war had not already begun, said the newspaper, was because Soviet Russia was exercising a strong policy of peace and was revealing the motives of the imperialists.

HOOPER ASKS AID For Needy; Names Thanksgiving Day

Washington, Nov. 5.—Proclaiming Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving Day, President Hoover has called for a dedication to the spirit that those in need in the United States shall be given security during the winter by neighbors in more fortunate circumstances.

"The measure of passing adversity which has come on us should deepen their sympathies and spirit of sacrifice for others and strengthen their courage," the chief executive's annual proclamation says. "Many of our neighbors are in need from causes beyond their control and the compassion of the people throughout the nation should assure their security over this winter that they too may have full cause to participate in this day of gratitude to the Almighty."

A BLOW FOR THE REPUBLICANS

TUESDAY'S CONGRESSIONAL AND state elections in the neighboring republic which resulted in some sweeping victories for the Democrats were ominous for the present administration at Washington. They would seem to be an intimation to President Hoover that the Republican party had better prepare to finish its innings next November.

The significance of this week's contests lies not so much in the fact that the Democrats now have gained control of the House of Representatives by a margin of two votes, as in the capture of Republican strongholds. The party in office had held District 8 in Michigan since 1896, but the Republican banner was hauled down on Tuesday. Not even the appeal of administration spokesmen in New Jersey to elect the Republican governor candidate as a gesture of moral support for the President was of any avail. The Democrats rolled up in sufficient force to carry the day—a victory to which a great deal of importance is attached by the party's leaders.

The congressional situation now is unique. While the Democrats number 217 against 215 Republicans—there are two vacancies and one Farmer-Labor member—in the House of Representatives, the government party has a majority of one in the Senate, there being forty-eight Republicans against forty-seven Democrats, with a Farmer-Labor member accounting for the other seat. It thus will be seen that although Mr. Hoover is grappling with the nation's problems in consultation with the leaders of both parties, unpleasant political facts are staring him in the face, and unless he is able to perform something in the nature of a miracle, the great advance of the Democrats in Tuesday's elections is almost sure to be maintained a year hence.

A change of administration in the United States would be of direct importance to Canada. The tariff policies of the Republican party have robbed the producers of this country of a substantial part of their best markets, while the retaliatory measures which the Dominion has felt bound to adopt likewise have contributed to the contraction of trade. The advent of the Democrats to power does not necessarily mean that all the fiscal barriers which have been erected against Canada and other countries will immediately be pulled down; but in view of the fact that even prominent Republicans now are convinced that the tariff business has been carried too far, there is every likelihood that a change at Washington would soon be followed by a substantial scaling down of the present schedule of import duties—a policy, of course, that might influence Canada in this respect.

PEOPLE WANT PEACE

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, IRON MASTER, addressing the Iron and Steel Institute, remarks that most of the world's troubles to-day are traceable to the World War; and he adds, very sensibly, that the only hope for recovery lies in continued universal peace.

"I was talking recently," says Mr. Schwab, "with a shrewd observer who has been traveling around the world. He tells me that the desire of the masses of the people in all parts of the world is for peace. The talk of another war has no place in the hearts of people anywhere."

This is true enough; and the great problem facing the world to-day is how to find a means of translating this world-wide desire into reality. The ordinary people themselves are converted. It remains only to bring their leaders into line.

And this, in turn, brings us to the curious fact that the ordinary man is usually a lot farther advanced than he gets credit for from the men who rule him. The follies and crimes that blacken the record of history are not due to the stupidity and iniquity of the mass of humanity; they arise because the men in high places cannot realize how eagerly mankind in general wants to be led along the right path.

It was not the common people who brought about the World War. It is not the common people who have kept hatred, suspicion and bitterness alive since the war ended. The world is in a mess to-day, and has been in one for seventeen years, because its leaders could not understand that the race as a whole will respond just as quickly to altruistic idealism as to selfishness and jealousy.

Mankind in general is capable of almost infinite things. It asks only for the right kind of leadership. For a great many years it has been cheerfully going out to die on innumerable battlefields for causes it could not understand; it has asked only that it be shown an ideal, only that it be urged to exhibit all the bravery and self-denial that it possesses.

To-day its face is set toward peace. Yet the world continues to move toward war. How long will it be before its leaders will discover what humanity really wants and expects of them?

NOT AN EASY MATTER

FROM LONDON COMES AN UNOF- ficial announcement that Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas will visit Canada almost immediately and then proceed to Australia and New Zealand—to prepare the ground for imperial trade agreements.

It is to be hoped something tangible will come out of the resumed Imperial Economic Conference; but the more one considers Great Britain's trading relations with two or three important foreign countries, the more obvious it becomes that Canada must be prepared for a give-and-take policy.

Great Britain's trade with the Argentine, one of Canada's keenest competitors in foodstuffs in the British market, is worth study. Argentina's sales to Britain amount to approximately $300,000,000 in value, and about $265,000,000 of this is represented by foodstuffs, while approximately $100,000,000 of $150,000,000 worth of commodities which Britain sells to the South American republic is accounted for by manufactured articles and coal. The balance, as will be seen, is heavily in favor of the Argentine; but the manufactured products of Britain enter that country free of duty under an arrangement reached some time ago.

There are two important reasons why it would be difficult for the National Government to take any step that would jeopardize British business in the Argentine. The fundamental reason is that Britain cannot afford to lose any market for the products of her factories; and it would cost her nearly $100,000,000 if she were to invite tariff retaliation by Argentina. The other reason why she will undoubtedly tread cautiously in this matter is that British investors have much larger interests in the southern republic than they have in Canada. They would be much safer perhaps in Canada; but that does not alter the fact that they are many miles south of the forty-ninth parallel. The interest on some British-held bonds has been defaulted; the free admission of manufactured articles from Britain is part of the recompense for the default. With these factors in mind, it does not seem likely that Britain will be prepared to disturb a business exchange which amounts to about $450,000,000 in value annually.

It also is to be borne in mind that not only has the balance of trade for years been heavily against Great Britain in her dealings with the Argentine, but has been heavily against her in her business with Canada; yet the duties against British goods have been raised by this country in the last twelve months. Here is the story of Canada's trade with Britain for a decade:

Fiscal Year	Merchandise Imports from Great Britain	Merchandise Exports to Great Britain
1921	$213,973,562	$314,328,671
1922	117,138,345	300,363,193
1923	141,330,143	379,918,556
1924	153,586,690	361,180,802
1925	151,063,045	379,168,048
1926	168,731,210	509,266,143
1927	163,939,065	448,019,084
1928	186,435,824	412,768,363
1929	194,041,381	431,680,741
1930	189,179,738	283,098,324
1931	149,688,457	220,687,304

If we take the fiscal year ending with March 31, 1930, as an average trading year, we find that approximately $110,000,000 of the total British sales to Canada of $189,000,000 is represented by textiles, woolen and cotton goods. These products compete with the Canadian article—and the textile industry in Canada is one of the most highly protected.

The question arises, therefore, if Britain should agree to impose a ten per cent duty on foreign foodstuffs—including her imports from the Argentine, of course—will Canada make it easier for the British manufacturer of textiles to get his goods, which represent the largest classification of our imports from Britain, into the Canadian market by lowering the present duty? As we see it, although we may be wrong, this phase of the question will be difficult to handle.

THE FINAL ROSTER

FINAL RETURNS IN LAST WEEK'S election of members to the British House of Commons show the following distribution of party strength:

Conservatives	473
National Liberal	67
National Labor	50
Liberal (Opposition)	5
Lloyd George Liberal	7
Independent	7
Total	615

Both Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Baldwin have declared emphatically that the victory of the government last week was no party victory in the narrow sense. Conservatives are naturally elated that their followers represent nearly five-sixths of the new House. But there is a very grave danger to the fortunes of that party, even danger to the country, in a majority which under some circumstances might get out of hand.

As long as the government maintains its national outlook, as long as Mr. MacDonald and his Liberal and Labor colleagues in the ministry do not permit themselves to be stampeded into policies about which there is a very much greater division of opinion than the present party standing in the House suggests, so long will the Conservatives be able to enjoy their moral or any other kind of victory they like to call it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

GANDHI UNIT GOT
The Minneapolis Journal

When starting for London Gandhi stated that he believed that God would use him as "His instrument for the service of humanity." That is what the former Kaiser felt, but he at least seems to have been mistaken.

PSHAW, DR. SHAW
The New York Outlook

Dr. Charles G. Shaw, who started the whistling war, is tired of it. He is willing to let everyone in the world whistle if everyone will stop bothering him. Dr. Shaw, who will recall, is the New York University professor who said that persons who whistle are morose, inferior and maladjusted individuals with puckered lips and impromptu music.

The statement brought a deluge of protest. Dr. Shaw held his headlines for a solid week. Now, harassed by telephone calls and fagged out with opening his mail and pasting up his press clippings, he blames everything on the depression. He says that people were so tired of reading serious stuff about the plight of the world that they seized his unimportant remark about whistling as a momentary relief from the stress and strain of life. But now he doesn't want to talk any more about whistling. He says he is bored.

Perhaps he is, though it is hard to believe it. Professor Shaw has made a hobby of headline-fishing. Once he publicly announced that crossword puzzle addicts had inferior mentalities. Another time he walked down Baltimore to New York to clear his mind of worry. And so on. He is said to have collected twenty large scrap-books of newspaper clippings about himself during the last ten years. If he yawns now he does not yawn alone. Whistlers may be morose. But on an equally neat term to label college professors who make trivial but argument-provoking statements, weight them with psychological hocus-pocus, toss them as bait to news editors, and so, so wearily deprecate the results.

A THOUGHT

For it came to pass, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods; and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father.—1 Kings 11:2.
Idolatry is certainly the first-born of folly.—South.

Loose Ends

Some gentlemen of the old school continue to deplore me—and suggest a better way of doing things—and another old myth is dispelled.

By H. B. W.

INDIGNANT GENTLEMEN of the old school continue to suspect me of radicalism, while radicals, who once claimed me for their own and used to send me Communist propaganda, have given me up as a hopeless reactionary. They do not send me any more propaganda of any sort. But the gentlemen of the old school seem to think it is still worth while to deplore me. One of them honored me to-day by the assertion that it was men like me who were assuring the destruction of our civilization. He said he was against old-age pensions, mothers' pensions, aid to the unemployed and all such things on three highly moral grounds: (1) They made people lose their independence and throttled initiative. (2) They caused people to save nothing against emergencies. And (3) they penalized the man who lived frugally by making him pay out of his savings for the man who lived imprudently.

AND SO MY FRIEND concluded that the trouble with our whole social structure was that we attempted to save the weak instead of allowing them to survive by their own efforts or perish. Just as primitive men leave their old people to die on the trail and wolves turn upon their wounded companions, so, my friend asserted, civilization must allow the survival of the fittest. Otherwise, the fittest would be so undermined by the others that no one would survive.

THIS IS IMPORTANT. Not because my friend said it or because it is true, but because a lot of men these days share this view. The practical side of it doesn't talk about it publicly. A lot of men in high places share it, though they haven't the courage to tell the electors so. Indeed, if you get right down to it, if you could reduce the many-sided problems of the human race to a simple issue, you would find it was just that—the issue of the survival of the fittest. The practical side is simply this—that if we are going to allow the survival of the fittest in this civilization and care nothing for the others, then we are in for a lot of interesting experience. If we once admit that, if we once convince the others that they can survive only by their own efforts, and with no help from us, they are going to try awfully hard to survive. And they won't worry how they do it, whom they hurt in doing it or what laws for the protection of life and property they break in doing it.

THEN, WHEN THE bars are down and everyone is for himself, a curious discovery will be made. It will be discovered, when only the fit can survive, that many of the men who are doing well now, many of those who think they are the fittest of the fit, aren't fit at all and will go under. Most curious of all, a lot of well-fitted gentlemen in high office who secretly advocate the survival of the fittest won't survive the first round. It will be found that what keeps them in office to-day, what keeps them well fed, is not their own fitness, but that very collective and protective force of society, that artificial barrier against natural laws known as civilization, which these gentlemen deprecate when it is used to protect other people, not so well fed, but perhaps much fitter than they. Thus, when gentlemen advocate the survival of the fittest, they ought to make quite sure first that they are fit, that they are not merely well-fed. The two things are not the same. Often they are the very opposite.

AMONG THE many myths prevalent about Victoria, none, not even the myth of our superior culture and better manners, is more absurd, or more tenacious, than the myth of our backwardness in business, our poor salesmanship. If you want to test the ability and the ruthlessness of our salesmanship, just let yourself or your affairs become known through the newspapers. Just intimate by the merest nod that you might be a potential customer for something, for anything, and you will find out all about the ability of Victoria businessmen.

THE OTHER DAY, for example, I happened to mention in this column that I was driving to town in my ancient and somewhat disreputable car. You would think that this was purely a matter between me and the readers of this column or my conscience, which is the same thing. You would think that I could mention my old and somewhat disreputable car in a free country under a benign government, without my personal liberty being curtailed. You would think so, but you do not know the salesmen of this slow-moving, backward little place of England on the shores of the Pacific.

NO SOONER had my casual observation about my car appeared in print than three automobile salesmen came to see me. They all agreed, with a curious unanimity and a common enthusiasm, which seems to be contagious among automobile salesmen, that my car was indeed old and disreputable and that I did need a new one. They were so certain of it, and has the highest reputation for superior quality.

"DOES LAST LONGER"

Kirk Coal Co. Ltd.

so much in agreement, that they almost convinced me they were right. Fortunately, however, I am stronger-minded about buying a new car than I am about giving elderly ladies a lift to town. The salesman all went away just as unanimous and one of the fellows who was hoarding my money and promoting depression (not knowing, of course, how my old car enriches the boys who run the garage down at the corner).

SO YOU see that if you want to escape salesmen you must not let it become known that you need anything. If you complain of your car, your automobile salesman will be upon you. If you deplore the sound of your radio, you will have radio salesmen upon you. If you ever admit to anyone that you are even alive a life insurance salesman will be knocking at your door within the hour.

RUSSIA FEARS BRITISH MOVE

Soviet Closely Watching
Trade Policy of Britain Following Rout of Labor Party
Five-year Plan May Be Extended to Ten, Says George
Schwoerer, Mining Engineer

Russia is closely checking developments following the political upheaval in Great Britain and conjecture is rife as to the attitude of the National Government in respect to trade with the Soviet.

It was a former Conservative government of Britain which steadfastly refused to recognize the Soviet. Resumption of trade relations with Russia was one of the first acts of the Labor government and Moscow was invited to exchange diplomatic representatives. Since that time the Soviet has been dumping wheat and other products into Britain at an alarming rate and this has become a particularly evident since the adoption by Russia of the famous five-year plan designed to rehabilitate the country industrially and agriculturally.

This five-year plan has been so successful that proposals have already been launched for its extension, according to George Schwoerer, mining engineer of Los Angeles, Cal., who arrived in Victoria yesterday by the President Madison from the Orient. He is returning home after spending two years in Soviet Russia as a consulting expert in the service of the Moscow government.

PLAN SUCCESSFUL
"The five-year plan will be stretched into a ten-year plan before the original scheme of the Soviet is complete," he said when questioned about conditions in Russia. "They are making a gigantic experiment over there and the indications are that it will turn out all right," said Mr. Schwoerer.

Mr. Schwoerer is authority for the statement that wonders have been performed in Russia. He is one of the American engineers who have been employed by the Russian government to assist in putting over the five-year plan. Extensive dredging work has been completed in the chief Russian harbors since the Siberian coast and in the Gulf of Finland, but chiefly in the Black Sea ports, which are contingent to the great grain producing areas of Russia. The harbor at Vladivostok, the outlet of the Siberian hinterland, has been deepened and greatly improved for the accommodation of shipping, said the engineer.

FACTOR IN GRAIN
Despite reports to the contrary, Russia will continue to be a factor in the world's grain markets, according to Mr. Schwoerer. Vast areas of virgin territory are being brought into the productive stage and wheat will continue to find its way into export channels. He believes that too much credence is being given to reports that Russia will not be in a position to export more wheat until 1933. He takes the view that Russia, which has made gigantic strides in her industrialization drive, will make even greater efforts in the future. There is increasing mineral development in the country and the forests are being exploited. The development of Russia's fishing industry has been instigated of late by the dispatch of a number of ships across the Pacific from the Kamchatka canneries laden with canned salmon for the European markets.

ARBITRATED ON SHANGHAI WATER

Nicholas S. Hill Returns After Concluding Investigations in China, China

Says Canada and States Will Have Big Market When
China Settles Down

Revised allocation of rates for different classes of customers, installation of water meters and necessary plant improvements, form in brief the recommendations of Nicholas S. Hill, prominent consulting engineer of New York, in his report on the operations of the Shanghai Waterworks Limited.

Mr. Hill arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon by the liner President Madison after spending some weeks in China.

The Shanghai waterworks is capitalized on a sterling basis and owing to the recent sharp drop in exchange, the company was compelled to make a surcharge of 25 per cent in order to carry on its operations successfully. The plan was agreed to by the Shanghai Municipal Council, the governing body of the Chinese city, but met with strong disapproval among the consumers.

MATTER OF RATES
As one of the most noted consultant engineers in the United States, Mr. Hill, at the request of the municipal council and with the consent of the company, was called in to arbitrate on the matter of rates and service.

On his arrival in New York, Mr. Hill expects to again meet C. D. Pearson, chief engineer and chairman of the Shanghai Waterworks Limited, who recently passed through here by the Empress of Canada en route to London via the States. Mr. Pearson's leave in London was terminated rather hurriedly by the water inquiry and he was forced to return to China through England, but expects to spend at least a month in New York.

One of the first things that will have to be tackled by China will be the question of more adequate protection for foreign capital, said Mr. Hill yesterday in discussing impressions gained while in the Far East. Stability of government was needed, he asserted. When China did finally settle down both Canada and the United States would have all the trade they wanted for probably the next fifty years, Mr. Hill concluded.

Mr. Hill was accompanied on his China tour by Mrs. Hill and his private secretary, Miss C. Grive.

Folks Past 40 Should Read This

If you are troubled with a burning sensation, function bladder weakness, frequent daily annoyance, getting-up-nights, dull pains in back, lower abdomen and down through groin—you should try the amazing value of Dr. Southworth's "Uratabs" at once and see what a wonderful difference they make! If this grand old formula of a well-known physician brings you the swift and satisfying comfort it has brought to dozens of others, you surely will be thankful and very well pleased. If it does not satisfy, the druggist that supplied you with "Uratabs" is authorized to return your money on the first box purchased. This gives you a full 15 days' test of "Uratabs" without risk of cost unless pleased with results. If you want the joys of peaceful, restful sleep and normal healthy bladder action, start this test to-day. Any good druggist can supply you. (Adv.)

ASKING WORK FOR JOBLESS

Trades and Labor Council
Makes Suggestions to Governing Authorities

Criticism of the city relief programme was voiced at a meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council in the Labor Hall yesterday evening, when suggestions for spending available money in more beneficial work were propounded.

The organization decided to urge that the City Council direct its efforts towards cementing wood sidewalks and replacing the city pipe line where it was needed. Installation of a sewer system in Saanich and other suburban areas was necessary, it was stated, and such work would give employment to a large number of men. An immediate start on the Victoria courthouse will be asked of the provincial government.

Premier Bennett will be asked by the council to have substituted for the road construction relief scheme a programme of public works building. Such a plan would not only create work for the men actually at work on it, but also for those in factories which would be employed making materials. It was stated, incidentally, the resolution set out material costs were low at the present time.

The meeting went on record in favor of immediate start on the blacked-out building of contributory unemployment insurance.

A blanket resolution asking for inauguration of a five-day week of six hours a day will be forwarded to federal, provincial and municipal authorities.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO CONTRACTOR

Impressive Scenes at Funeral of Fred. Parfitt; Wealth of Flowers

With the baton which he wielded for so many years resting on the black-draped music stand and the organ bench similarly draped in black, Emmanuel Baptist Church was the scene yesterday afternoon of the impressive funeral service for Frederick Parfitt, well-known contractor and for many years leader of the church choir.

A large congregation of sorrowing friends, business associates and musical confreres attended the funeral, and a wealth of beautiful flowers paid further tribute to the memory of a highly-respected citizen.

A private service was held at the family residence, 2029 Fernwood Road, after which the cortege proceeded to Emmanuel Church where the remains lay in state until the funeral service at 2 o'clock. Banked around the casket were the many beautiful floral tributes.

IMPRESSIVE EULOGIES
Rev. M. S. Richardson, pastor of the church, conducted the impressive service assisted by Rev. G. A. Reynolds of First Baptist Church and Ven. E. P. Laycock, Archdeacon of Columbia, who was associated with Mr. Parfitt during the building of Christ Church Cathedral. In a brief eulogy, Archdeacon Laycock recalled the sterling qualities of Mr. Parfitt and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved, counselling them to remember that, as Mr. Parfitt had built the Cathedral by the assembling of the various parts after they had been cut and shaped, so had he fashioned his own life in preparation for his home on high.

Rev. Mr. Richardson paid tribute to Mr. Parfitt, recalling his cheerful disposition, his interest in all things connected with the church, and his unflinching duty to the choir work. His courageous smile, he said, had endeared him to all people with whom he came in contact. "Although he has been taken away from us, let us remember that our brother has only been promoted to a greater service. He has gone to be the leader of a greater choir than here on earth," said the minister.

AVENUE OF FLOWERS
During the service, the two hymns sung were "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" and "For All the Saints, Who From Their Labors Rest." At the conclusion of the service, the organist, Miss W. Scowcroft, played the "Dead March" while the congregation stood, and "Lead, Kindly Light" was sung as the mourners were leaving the church. As the casket was borne from the church to the hearse, friends, carrying wreaths, formed an avenue of flowers.

The pallbearers were Harold C. Parfitt, G. H. Parfitt, Ray Parfitt, Cecil Lewis, Giles Province and Jack Wermley. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Led by Norm Collins, president of the group, and Archie McKinnon, physical director, the Victoria Y.M.C.A. gym leaders' corps will leave for the Pacific Northwest conference to be held in Seattle on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, to-morrow.

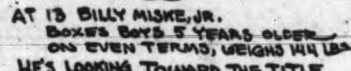

Alan Stewart, Alex Gray, and Bobb Gordon will complete the local delegation.

At the conference they will take part in discussions on physical work and young men's leadership and will compete in the special gymnasium exhibition, held at all such gatherings.

LOCAL ARTISTS DELIGHT ARTS CLUB AUDIENCE

Musical Society's Programme Yesterday Big Success; Two Piano and Vocal Groups

G. J. D.

The third concert arranged under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Society, given yesterday evening at the Shrine Auditorium, proved particularly interesting. There was a very large turnout of members and guests. Noteworthy features in the enjoyable concert were the rare local occurrence of a two-piano duet, and the splendid performance of the two admirably young pianists, Gwendoline Harper and Edgar E. Holloway, the artistic singing of Marie North and the distinct impression made by the young singer, Dorothy Parsons.

In the present generation it is not infrequent that two or more pianists are heard in ensemble work, and the occasion of yesterday evening and one or two previous appearances, may well be considered in repetitions of the future. Both Miss Harper and Mr. Holloway are well and favorably known as soloists, and their pianistic accomplishments are of a very high order. In technique, tone, musical understanding, dynamic properties, and in their sense of ensemble playing, these may go far very far, in any similar work. While there was, perhaps, a seeming subjugation in "The Song of the Sea," the composition always came first and in range of accent, in finish, of unanimity in delicacy and even in taste, they exemplify the art of dual pianism to a high degree.

They opened the programme with "Variations on a Theme by Beethoven," by the famous French composer Saint-Saens, a compelling and exacting arrangement, and "The Song of the Sea," by Arensky, charming and elegant. The second group was equally as delightful: Schumann's "Andante, With Variations," and Saint-Saens' inspired "Danse Macabre," the third symphonic poem which this composer wrote for orchestra. The queer dance, the rattling of the bones of the skeletons, were unmistakable in the interpretation, and the two artists in this, in the first group, were insistently applauded, giving in response a sparkling "Spanish Rhapsody."

Miss North, by sheer hard work, has won a no uncertain point in her vocal career, and she has the splendid gift of a voice of rare range—a mezzo-soprano with a contralto quality. She has natural gifts, too, and seldom has a singer given such a measure of success as she did yesterday evening. In all she accomplished there was consummate artistry and well-deserved applause. The continuous applause that followed her two groups. Her numbers were the great aria which occurs in the second act of "Samson et Delilah" (Saint-Saens), "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and "The Centaur of the Noble," by Schumann; "The Bell" (Saint-Saens), charmingly accomplished, and "Over the Steppes" by the Russian composer, Glinka. Dorothy Morton accompanied her admirably.

Dorothy Parsons is carving for herself a place in vocal spheres that in time is sure to be one of distinction. She made an excellent impression in her two groups, especially in the first (Concluded on Page 9)

LAUDS WOMEN DOCTORS' WORK

Col. B. O. Hooper Scores "Stupid" Attitude Towards Feminine Practitioners

Canadian Press

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Criticism was levelled at the women of Toronto by Col. B. O. Hooper, speaking at the annual meeting of the corporation on the Women's College Hospital, for the "stupid" attitude they take toward women doctors.

"There is great resistance from the women of Toronto who for some unknown reason decide that their own sex is outclassed in the medical profession by the mere male," Col. Hooper said. "Your women say they much prefer a man doctor. Such an attitude is stupid when there are so many highly qualified women doctors doing excellent work in Toronto."

If women could realize the position of their grandmothers, seventy or eighty years ago, and compare it with the progress made by women of to-day, they would rejoice that mankind and especially the incoming generation, should benefit by it, the speaker said.

V.O.N. Members—Victorian Order of Nurses registrations yesterday included the following names: Mrs. H. H. Bowler, Miss E. D. Duke, Mrs. A. E. Christie, Mrs. Allen Craig, Mrs. E. Sutcliffe, Mrs. E. Bird, Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Mrs. Worlock, Mrs. J. S. C. Fraser, Mrs. C. S. Willie, Miss Kathleen Hall, Mrs. J. S. Bairdwood, Mrs. Charles Rhodes and Mrs. G. H. Richardson.

MAKES HOME IN OLD SCHOONER

Former Society Woman of New York Fights Eviction From Quaint Domicile

Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Louis J. Sherwin, wife of a New York playwright and dramatic critic, makes her home aboard an old-fashioned schooner, Snetind, tied up at Federal Wharf, Border Street, East Boston. Recently she admitted being harassed by those who would force her from her quaint home, having failed in their attempt to evict her by court proceedings.

Mrs. Sherwin was found going up the side of the old four-masted Snetind—where she has lived with her large police dog for the past year, and a half—in a boatman's chair. "You see, they have taken away the gangplank," said Mrs. Sherwin, "and they think they can drive me off that way, but they will find I am not so easily moved."

Mrs. Sherwin says she is purchasing the boat and the agreement with the owners was that the craft would be towed to Marblehead Harbor and there she plans to have it available for mothers and children who want to live aboard it, and where mothers would have an opportunity to earn a livelihood.

She said the owners of the boat have thus far failed to keep their agreement. In August an attempt was made to evict her, with proceedings in the East Boston court. The case was non-suited so Mrs. Sherwin retains her possession of the craft.

"The law of tenancy of homes apparently did not apply to vessels," the plaintiff learned," said Mrs. Sherwin, "and so I am still here."

Mrs. Sherwin was at one time a well-known member of New York society. Her son, William Windsor Sherwin, was aboard the craft recently with his mother. He is attending an exclusive preparatory school and plans to enter Harvard next year. A daughter, Miss Sylvia Sherwin, is a prominent member in Long Island circles, and another daughter, Mrs. Philip Drury Foster, is in Boston.

Mrs. Sherwin plans to have a home for "submerged mothers" aboard the craft, where toys, handicraft, wearing apparel and other articles could be made. She has many samples of her own handiwork on the boat and says she can obtain contracts for about all the article that could be turned out. She is confident she will triumph with her plans.

WOMAN JUROR TO BE CHARGED

Minneapolis Woman Deadlocked Case in Which Her Former Employer Defendant

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 5.—Contempt of court proceedings were instituted to-day against Mrs. Genevieve A. Clark, who gained fame two weeks ago by insisting on acquittal and deadlocking the jury of which she was the only woman member in the trial of W. B. Foshaay and six associates on mail fraud charges.

Mrs. Clark is to appear Monday to show cause why she should not be held in contempt on grounds that she once was in the employ of Foshaay, had made up her mind before the trial to vote for acquittal, and had perjured herself to get on the jury.

MUSSOLINI GOES TO ST. PETER'S

Vatican City, Nov. 5.—Premier Mussolini made his second public appearance at St. Peter's this morning.

Dressed in a frock coat, he drove to the Basilica after acting as witness at the wedding of Maria Ciano, daughter of Count Ciano, Minister of Communications, to Massimo Magistrati, Italian diplomat.

His first visit to St. Peter's was a year and a half ago following the wedding of his daughter, Edda, to Count Galeazzo Ciano, brother of the bride of to-day's wedding.

His visit this morning was looked on as a forerunner of his forthcoming visit to Pope Pius XI and as a further indication of better relations between Italy and the Vatican.

She is confident she will triumph with her plans.

Those speaking against the motion concluded that the present allowances to the girls are little enough in compensation for the work which they do, that a cut would make it impossible for many girls to go through for the nursing profession, and that the present rate attracted the best type of girls, and permitted a careful selection of nurses, resulting in increased efficiency.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 5.—By a decisive majority, the hospital board rejected a motion that the allowances to nurses in training be cut in half in the contracts which would be offered in future to girls entering the Royal Alexandra for training.

The scale of allowances proposed provided no payment for the probation period of four months, $5 a month for the next eight months, $7.50 a month for the second year and $10 a month for the third year. The chairman pointed out that eventually this new scale would effect 150 nurses in training and save approximately $1,000 a month.

TO-DAY IS GUY FAWKES DAY

Age-old Ritual Observed in Vaults of British Houses of Parliament.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 5.—To-day is Guy Fawkes Day. Visitors to London from afar doubtless have been puzzled the last few days at being pestered on the sidewalks by parties of streeturchins carrying a most primitive effigy of a man and beseeching passers-by to "remember the Guy." The visitor perhaps has been still more surprised to learn this curious ritual possesses direct associations with one of the quaintest ceremonies attending the opening of Parliament.

Before the new Parliament met last Tuesday the crypt of the Houses of Parliament was searched as usual by members of the Yeoman of the Guard from the tower of London, arrayed in their quaint Tudor uniforms. It so happens this Parliament assembles the same week as the 325th anniversary of the assembling of Parliament by James I, when Guy Fawkes and his confederates plotted to blow up the king, lords and commons together, having hired a cellar beneath the House of Parliament and filled it with barrels of gunpowder. Fawkes was caught and under torture revealed the names of his fellow-conspirators.

The searching-to-day of the vaults of Parliament is a reminder of the plot which miscarried three centuries ago. It is well within the memory of people, only now middle-aged, that street carnivals on Guy Fawkes Day were once of some pretensions. Really respectable guys were carried around and burned after nightfall. Nowadays these demonstrations, left as they are to the children of the slums, have reached their most abject state. Nevertheless, youngsters hail November 5 with satisfaction, for the day usually means a bonfire and the letting off of fireworks.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

MILK FORMULAS FIGURED ACCORDING TO AGE AND WEIGHT

A milk formula for baby must contain three things: milk, water and sugar. The amount of milk to be given daily is directly related to the baby's weight. It is computed that from one and one-half to two ounces of milk for each pound of baby's weight will furnish said baby his protein needs for the twenty-four hours. Thus a twelve-pound baby needs for eighteen to twenty-four ounces of milk daily to give him the necessary material for growth and development.

PROTEIN IN COW'S MILK. Cows' milk has a type of protein that is sometimes difficult for baby to digest. To help this we add water to the formula, supplying the baby with his definite water need at the same time. Water is most easily administered in his formula, as he may spurn it to drink. His fluid needs are usually computed at two and one-half to three ounces for every pound of weight. If we know the proportion of milk the baby needs and likewise his total fluid needs, it is not difficult to figure a formula. If baby weighs twelve pounds, his whole fluid needs are three times twelve, or thirty-six ounces daily. His milk (or protein) needs are twenty-four ounces. The formula reads twenty-four ounces of milk, twelve of water.

SUGAR IMPORTANT. Sugar must not be forgotten. Mother's milk is highly sweet, and baby needs this extra food for heat and energy. Thus, in addition to milk and water, our twelve-pound baby will require about four level tablespoons of sugar. All of this is figured for mothers in our leaflet called "Sweet Milk Formulas." Will those who are interested send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for their copies?

This is meant for you, too, Mrs. M. W. P. You are making the mistake of figuring your formula by the individual bottle, instead of for the entire day's supply, and solely in relation to baby's age and weight. Your baby was born four months old and weighs twelve and one-half pounds. This would be an average weight for a baby who weighs six pounds at birth. For the average seven-pound-at-birth baby, thirteen and one-half pounds is the regulation weight at four months.

A BETTER FORMULA. I would give the baby twenty-four ounces of milk, twelve of water and one and one-half ounces of sugar. Boil the milk, then measure it into the bottle, and add the sugar. The sugar has been dissolved. Divide into six bottles. Feed at 10-12-2-6 and 10 to 2 at night.

Dilute your orange juice with boiled, cooled water. To cook orange juice with boiling water robs it of those fresh elements for which it is given, besides making it a most unappealing mess, if you ask me. It is better to give the cod liver oil by itself. Give one-half teaspoonful four times a day, right after the regular feedings. This is a small amount and baby should not resent it. If he does, there is the advantage that he will not turn up his nose at orange juice, too, as he certainly would if he associated it with the other. "Feeding From Two to Twelve Months" is another leaflet you should have now. Address requests for all leaflets to Mrs. Myrtle Meyer Elder, "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Woman Hunter Has Record Bag

Fredericton, N.B., Nov. 5.—A new record for a lady big game hunter was established in New Brunswick recently by Mrs. Walter R. Peterson of Nashua, N.H. Shooting in the Serpentine section of the Tobique district of this province, Mrs. Peterson killed a moose, two buck deer and one bear. The feat is most noteworthy and her skill as a successful huntress is without parallel in this part of Canada.

Accompanying Mrs. Peterson on this trip was her husband, who also killed a fine specimen of bull moose. He is a well-known hunter, and has a fine camp on Riley Brook, N.B., with a splendid collection of trophies from the New Brunswick woods, as well as from other parts of Canada.

In which she sang in the native language of the composer, Miss Parsons combines a splendid studentship with natural gifts of voice and musical intelligence. She evidently has gained in her recent concert appearances many friends, judging from the reception and the floral tributes she received. Much applause followed her numbers, Mendelssohn's "Auf Flügeln des Gesanges" ("On Wings of Song"), an ever-popular song, and interpreted with the clearness and directness the music requires; the ornate Page Song from Meyerbeer's "Les Huguenots," in its technical "exercises" and beautiful melody; Brahms' "Oh That I Might Retrace the Way," and Liszt's "Die Lorelei," this composer's most popular lieder. Her father, Edward Parsons, sympathetically accompanied and the augmented number, "Hills of Home," added further pleasure.

Countess Laura de Turczynowicz and Stanley Builey announced the different numbers.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO CONFER HERE

Conference Over Week-end Expected to Be One of Best Ever Held

The conference of the Anglican Young People's Association will be held in Victoria over the week-end. Since it follows right behind the Dominion conference in Regina, it is expected that representatives outside the province will be in attendance and that the gathering will be one of the best ever held on the Pacific Coast.

The programme for Saturday and Sunday has been drawn up under the supervision of Jack Aylin, president of the Victoria and District Local Council. It is as follows:

Saturday, 8 a.m.—All members to attend Holy Communion at Christ Church Cathedral, following which breakfast will be served at the Memorial Hall. At 11 a.m. the delegates will attend divine service at St. John's Church, where Rev. Canon Chadwick will deliver a message of special interest to young people, and the lessons will be read by J. Walker, president of the Vancouver Local Council, and S. C. Hawkins, Dominion vice-president.

RESPONSIBILITY. From 2.15 to 5.15 p.m. the conference will be held in the Memorial Hall, the subjects for discussion being "How Can the A.Y.P.A. Best Bear Its Responsibility to Adolescent Youth?" "The Necessity for a Well-balanced Programme," "The Value of Bible Study" and "The Value of Organized Recreational Periods."

"Impressions of the Dominion Conference," "The A.Y.P.A. Monthly Magazine" and "The Columbia Coast Mission" will also form part of the Sunday afternoon programme. In the evening the delegates will attend service at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at which the lessons will be read by A. Peale, president of the New Westminster Local Council, and Jack Aylin, president of the Victoria Local Council. After the church service a farewell get-together will take place in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Reports from Vancouver, New Westminster, Nanaimo and Courtenay indicate that a large number of visiting delegates will be present on this occasion and the committee help, Jack Aylin, Miss I. Dailin, Miss K. Smith, Miss M. Holyoke, Messrs. B. Green and D. Pite, have arrangements well in hand to entertain the visitors. Miss Holyoke, who is in charge of hospitality to visitors for lunch and supper on Sunday, asks that all local members who would like to entertain out-of-town visitors, communicate with her.

W.B.A. Pioneer Club.—The W.B.A. Pioneer Club will meet to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dresser, Montrose Avenue.

MANY NOVELTIES AT TEMPLE HALL

Many beautifully decorated stalls and novelty stands laden with attractive wares featured the annual bazaar held at Temple Hall yesterday afternoon under the joint auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Ladies' League of the City Temple, and throughout the afternoon and evening the hall was thronged with patrons.

MANY ATTRACTIONS. Alderman R. T. Williams, who was introduced by Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, performed the opening ceremony. The bazaar work was in charge of Mrs. A. Dash; novelties, Mrs. Watson; aprons, Miss Herd; children's dups, Mrs. George Holt; home cooking, Mrs. F. G. Johnson; candy, Mrs. Clarke; refreshments, Miss Mabel Johnson; superfluities, Mrs. James Gadsden.

Mrs. P. McMillan's "Live Wire" class had charge of a mystery cave, and Mrs. T. Hammond's class sold novelties. The Ladies' League had charge of a miscellaneous stall, Mrs. T. E. Almsough being the convener. Capt. Gadsden did a lively business at the house-houses, and Mrs. H. Cooke was convener of the stall for children's wear. Miss Herd superintended the general decorative scheme.

Under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Temple an attractive programme was given both afternoon and evening. During the afternoon Miss Violet Powkes's pupils danced, and in the evening dances by the pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson were also much enjoyed. An orchestra composed of Messrs. Ralph Sundin, A. Stafford, C. Saunders and Miss Muriel Richards played selections. Mr. B. Wauke sang "The Garden of My Heart" and "The Blind Ploughman," accompanied by Mrs. H. Langley at the piano.

The bazaar will be open again this afternoon and evening, with new musical programmes arranged by Mrs. Temple. The proceeds of the undertaking will be devoted to the building fund.

GRACIOUS, LOOK AT THIS SHIRT. WHITE AS SNOW! MRS. MORTON WAS RIGHT—I'LL NEVER USE ANYTHING BUT RINSO. ITS CREAMY SUDS ARE MARVELLOUS!

THE GRANULATED HAND-WATER SOAP

Rinso

in tub or washer ...for whiter washes

YOU'RE ALWAYS THROUGH WITH YOUR WASH AHEAD OF ME. AND IT LOOKS MUCH WHITER, TOO. HOW DO YOU DO IT IN OUR HARD WATER?

I USE RINSO. ITS RICH SUDS SOAK OUT DIRT. I DON'T HAVE TO SPEND HOURS SCRUBBING.

(Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this.)

"Easier on the Clothes and it's a great work saver" says Mrs. Rose Freidrick

"You never saw such active, soapy suds as Rinso gives! The water around here is hard, too. Rinso's creamy suds soak out the dirt; clothes come white and clean so easily. This way saves the clothes, saves me work, too. I use Rinso for dishes and all cleaning. It's great!"

MRS. ROSE FREDRICK

Thick suds in hardest water

Women like Rinso suds—they're so soapy and active. How they loosen dirt! Thrifty, too.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Rich, lasting suds, even in hardest water. No softener needed! The makers of 38 washers recommend Rinso. Get the BIG package.

AT THE THEATRES

"Secretary's Secrets" Society Picture On Screen at Capitol

What do society girls do when their family fortunes suddenly vanish? In most instances, such heart young ladies have been known to plunge into the workaday world and make commercial successes out of lives that once had been ordained mainly for squanderous activities.

"Secrets of a Secretary" has to do with the activities of just such a girl—Helen Blake—played by Claudette Colbert at the Capitol Theatre starting to-day.

In this story the heroine is even more than ordinarily burdened. She has acquired a husband who turns out to be a worthless fortune-hunter who, as soon as he sees their money going, goes himself, deserting the much-em- bittered girl.

But she gets employment as a social secretary for a wealthy family with whom she had once been on a par- socially. The father and mother of the family treat her with the respect that her earlier status in their stratum de- manded. But their young daughter Sylvia is just a trifle snooty.

When the British Lord who is com- ing to marry this young woman arrives falls in love with Claudette, Mean- while Sylvia has been carrying on a dangerous affair with Claudette's re- negade husband.

The situation is tense and the prob- lems faced by the heroine are modern problems.

COLISEUM THEATRE

"A Warm Corner," the new British farce, which is at the Coliseum to- day, is based on the successful play which ran so long in London and con- tains all the state of the stage pro- ductions. The situations are developed with an eye on the cinematograph medium, and the action has received as much praise as the dialogue. This is to introduce a comedian new to Victoria, but famous on the Eng- lish stage, in Leslie Henson, considered the "Chaplin" of the English stage. In the cast is the English comic, Al Jennings, who is reformed and funny situations invented by this resource- ful artist. Another well-known com- edian in the cast is Connie Ediss, the former Gaity Theatre favorite.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The cry for realism has hit Holly- wood and when J. P. McCarthy, writer and director of the film production, "The Land of Missing Men," started work on this picture he immediately cast Al Jennings in one of the lead- ing roles.

Al Jennings is a very famous char- acter in the west and southwest. He is an ex-bandit, who reformed and came in vaudeville, pictures and honest enterprises which he never could have located on the hot side of a '45.

Jennings acted in the capacity of actor and "advisory" expert. This western- styled feature film, "The Land of Missing Men," started work on this picture he immediately cast Al Jennings in one of the lead- ing roles.

Wheat Prices Ease From Early Highs On Profit-taking

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Influenced by a wave of profit-taking in the final hour, wheat prices eased from high levels established early in the session on the grain exchange here to-day. Prices at the close were 1½ cents higher than Wednesday's finish.
November closed at 70½; December at 71½, and May at 73½. The July future, which appeared on the board for the first time closed at 75½ to 76½.
Prices were erratic throughout most of the session, which at one time saw May future establish a new high point.
Trading continued at a steady pace and there was evidence of foreign interest in the market. Commission houses, however, accounted for most

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG	CHICAGO
(By Logan & Bryan)	(By Logan & Bryan)
Wheat—Nov. 5.—Wheat: The market was a broad, active affair again to-day with prices making new highs on the movement, and the wheat bulge being 1½ to 2½ cents above the close last night. There was an excellent class of buying going on practically throughout the session that was credited to New York exporters and seaboard houses, while commission houses appeared to be on both sides of the market. Offerings were quite heavy at times by way of liquidation and hedging sales, and while the market acted erratic and nervous at times the offerings were well absorbed, and the market was able to recover from the setbacks. Seaboard placed export sales over night at 700,000 bushels, largely Manitoba, with a small scattered business in hard winters, but the buying in the futures indicated a larger business than this. On the other hand the cash demand was rather quiet, and only small lots were changing hands, but offerings were not pressing. Spreads were mostly unchanged, but small lots of No. 3 Northern and No. 4 were selling at ½ better. Mills still report a fair domestic demand for flour with very little doing in export channels. Country marketings in the west Wednesday were 2,875,000 bushels against 2,180,000 a year ago. Both Winnipeg and Chicago markets sold off rather sharply at the close, but Winnipeg finished half higher for the day and Chicago higher.	Wheat—Nov. 5.—Wheat: Wheat advanced sharply again to-day as result of general buying, but failed to hold the gain in full when profit-taking developed. The market has had the help to-day of continued unfavorable weather conditions in the southwest and in western Canada, and also of a further reduction in Russian shipments which for the week were only 1,116,000 bushels, about one-fifth of what they were the same week last year. Complaints are increasing in regard to the condition of winter wheat. Liverpool closed 2½ to 2½ higher. The tenor of reports from the other side indicated that the demand had slowed up to some extent for actual wheat. Prices have advanced where the outlook is for wide swings and frequent reactions, but the main thing is that prices are still cheap, and that potential bullish features for the next year will win out on the constructive side. From present indications the surplus stocks in this country will all be wanted. Outside of this country supplies are plentiful and prospective, and all positions are smaller than a year ago. Europe is likely to need all the good wheat available. The corn market was strong and higher. Active buying was evidence, and selling was not aggressive. There was some buying by locals and also general commission support on the bulge. There was some profit-taking by holders. Cash demand was moderate and country sales were fair. Receipts are increasing a little, with the new corn crop ahead. Receipts to-day 211 cars estimated with primary arrivals 402,000 bushels, against 889,000 a year ago. Oats moved up with grain. Buying of this grain has been a little backward, but conditions are right for this grain to move up more in line with other grains, present prices for corn and wheat making oats look very cheap. Rye—Foreign new—continue to sell on rye and with the American and Canadian crops short, and import countries in need of liberal stocks the present price level looks cheap, especially as Russia appears to be offering but little rye.

Shall a Girl of Seventeen Centre Her Interest on One Boy?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of seventeen and have a boy friend the same age. We are both in junior year in high school. He takes me to and from school and we eat our dinners together at the noon hour and have dates three times a week. We do not go with any one else. We plan to marry in three years. My father and mother say I should not have all my dates with him and should not be engaged, just good friends until he is through school. Should I date with him alone? Is it wise for us to be engaged?

SCHOOLGIRL.

Answer—Certainly it is most unwise for a boy and girl of seventeen to tie themselves down with a long engagement. They are too young to know their own minds. They are at the time of life when their minds are expanding, and their tastes changing every day, and they have no more idea of what sort of husband and wife they will want when they are grown up than they have what style of hat or dress they will want.

At seventeen they should have all the girl and boy friends they desire, but they should enter into entangling alliances with none. They should leave themselves free to look the opposite sex over and size it up in order that when the time does come to make a life choice they will have a wide knowledge and experience of men and women to guide them in making their selection.

The boy and girl who have never had but one sweetheart have not only missed a lot of fun, they have missed a lot of education in the art and science of love and how to test it. It is only those who have had a dozen light attacks of love who know when they are at last smitten down by the fatal malady.

And, believe me, my dear, a girl of seventeen makes the mistake of her young life when she lets any one boy monopolize her. If she does this, she simply shuts the door in the face of good times and of her chances of making a better match. She puts herself absolutely in the power of the boy to whom she has given all her dates and if he doesn't choose to take her about she is sunk.

Any girl who does this lacks even almost human intelligence, because she has burned all of her bridges and left herself no way of graceful retreat. She has driven away all the other boys and if the one boy she has let camp on her doorstep gets tired of camping there and wanders off or if he sees some new girl who attracts him and she forsakes her for the stranger or if he is sent off to school or goes away to work, why she is simply left stranded with nobody to take her out or give her a good time.

Isn't a girl silly to put herself in that position? Yet you see girls do so every day, and you see a lot of them sitting at home sucking their thumbs when the other girls are off amusing themselves. Also you see them have to humiliate themselves by asking some Tom, Dick or Harry to take them to a place and you see the lordly air with which some Tom, Dick or Harry treats such a girl because he knows she is dependent upon him and that if he doesn't ask her to go to the picture show nobody else will.

Lots of boys and girls who begin going together in their school days get tired of each other. They bore each other. Everything that was fresh and beautiful in their companionship has worn itself out and they would gladly part if they could, but public gossip has bracketed them so long together they lack the courage to break away. Very often they even marry in the end, just because it is expected of them, when they have already lost all taste for each other. That is one reason why there are so many flat, dull marriages.

And it is because so many girls are foolish enough to let one boy monopolize them that there are so many old maids. For when the boy gets tired he can always kiss and ride away and find a new Lady Love, but the forsaken girl finds it pretty hard to get once more in the running and to let other men know that Tom, Dick or Harry has decided not to take up his option on her hand and heart after all and that she is open to other offers.

So, my dear, don't play favorites for the next three years. Have a good time with all the boys and remember that competition is the life of trade in love as in business.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Do the modern girls have to do the chasing? I know so many nice-looking girls who have to stay at home by themselves, while other girls not nearly so attractive have dates galore just because they play up to their crushes. Which is right? Chase the boys and have a grand and glorious time or wait to let them hunt you up and stay home alone night after night?

PEGGY.

Answer—The proof of the pudding is in the eating, Peggy, and if the only way you can get a boy is to chase him down, then go to it and more speed to you.

But it is a thing that can be easily overdone and the girl who runs after men is very apt to find that they run away from her and that they can out-sprint her. Of course, now and then there is an overly conceited boy whose vanity is flattered by adopting the grand pasha attitude toward girls and making them make all kinds of advances. They boast that they make a girl do all the telephoning and arranging of dates and that when they go out with a girl she has to furnish the car and even pay for the gasoline. They think it is honor enough for a girl to be seen out with him and that she should be willing to pay for their society.

But there are not a great many men with this high idea of their own attractions and that low opinion of women, and most men prefer girls who are not too easy and not too anxious. They want to be the hunters and not the hunted.

Salt of Sea and Earth

The Arabs have a saying, "There is salt between us." This means that there is friendship.

The Persians say, "That man is not true to his salt," meaning that he is not loyal to his friends.

Men at work on a hill of salt.

It is believed that such sayings arose from the importance of salt. Without salt in one form or another, no human being can live. In early days, before commerce made salt easy to obtain for everyone in civilized parts of the earth, salt was held to be of great value. Cakes of salt were used as money in southern Asia long ago.

People who dwell near the sea shore can obtain salt without great trouble. By dipping up sea water and letting it evaporate in the sunlight, or by boiling it, they are able to supply the precious substance. This method is widely followed.

Another method of obtaining salt is from mines. Many land areas of the earth were at one time or another under seas or oceans. We know this because of the remains of salt-water fish and other sea animals found amid rock layers in regions now dry land. When the seas and oceans dried up, salt was left behind. We now find salt in beds, sometimes far below the surface, sometimes far below.

Great Salt Lake is the remnant of an inland sea. In the land around this lake are beds of salt. There is enough salt in and around Great Salt Lake to supply the world with enough salt for a long time to come, but Utah is not at present the chief salt-producing area of the world. Michigan, New York and Ohio all rank ahead of Utah in the annual yield of salt. Most of Canada's salt is obtained from an area of 3,000 square miles in Ontario.

Salt is employed to preserve meat and fish, to harden soap, and to mix with sand and other substance when glass is made. Salt improves the clearness of glass.

There is an underground "salt city" in Austria. It contains more than 1,000 inhabitants, and is lighted with electricity. The air in this underground city is dry and cool. The chief occupation of the city is salt mining.
